Noble's restaurant at The Hills Lodge has received mixed reviews from diners. Despite some complaints about slow service and cold food, others have praised the great food and friendly atmosphere. The menu offers a decent selection, with some standout dishes like the ravioli and lamb. While portions may be on the smaller side for some, the quality of the food has generally been well-received. With a nice ambience and professional staff, Nobles is worth a visit for those looking for a pleasant dining experience.
